

Brief CV –Wayne Gordon

A proven and successful business professional in Business Development, Sales and Marketing and Technical Sales. Wayne has gained an excellent reputation among his colleagues and clients for his negotiating skills and first-class customer care.

With his considerable technical qualifications and experience, coupled with excellent communication skills, he is capable of leading and managing teams co-ordinating multiple technical projects.

Wayne is able to skilfully negotiate business development at all levels and with his knowledge and experience coupled with his genuine and pleasing personality he has become highly successful in bringing contracts to a successful conclusion.

A former distinguished member of HM Royal Marines, Wayne served on operational duties in overseas theatres worldwide. Later in his career he trained in all aspects of criminal investigations, before commanding a detachment of specialist investigators working with civilian police and foreign military investigators in serious and terrorist crime.

Les Leek, the Managing Director of Security and Intelligence Services said, "We are delighted to have appointed Wayne as our Security Director and he brings with him some unique skills, which will considerably benefit the company in many areas.